

V-Dem Lunch Seminars Spring 2016

Wednesdays 12.00-13.00, Room: Stora Skansen

20 January: Matthew Wilson (visiting scholar 18-22 January)

Understanding Authoritarian Trajectories: A Sequence Analytic Approach

Assistant Professor, West Virginia University

3 February: Thomas Flores (visiting scholar 1-5 February)

Book presentation: Elections in Hard Times: Building Stronger Democracies in the 21st Century

Assistant Professor, George Mason University

17 February: Keith Weghorst (visiting scholar 15-19 February)

Legislative Candidacy in Electoral Authoritarian Regimes: Evidence from Tanzania

Post-doctoral Research Fellow, Vanderbilt University

2 March: Saara Inkinen (visiting scholar 29 February – 4 March)

Co-optation in Multiparty Autocracies: The Conditioning Effect of Party Systems

Research Fellow, WZB Berlin Social Science Center, Democracy and Democratization

16 March: Wawrzyniec Konarski (visiting scholar 14-18 March)

Populism and Political Class Features in Contemporary Polish Democracy

Professor, Jagiellonian University Cracow

13 April: Kelly McMann (visiting scholar 11-15 April)

Electoral Freeness and Fairness: The Connections between Subnational and National Elections-

Associate Professor, Director of the International Studies Program, Case Western Reserve U

27 April: Abrak Saati (visiting scholar 25-29 April)

Public Participation in ConstitutionBbuilding – an Effective Strategy for Enhancing Democracy?

Researcher at the Department of Political Science, Umeå University

11 May: Steven Fish (visiting scholar 9-19 May)

Title: tbd

Professor, Berkeley University