

V-Dem Lunch Seminars Fall 2016

Wednesdays 12.00-13.00. Room: Stora Skansen

14 September: Daniel Posner (visiting scholar 12-18 September)

Accountability Can Transform (ACT) Health: A Randomized Evaluation of a Community-Based Monitoring Program of Healthcare Providers in Uganda

James S. Coleman Professor of International Development in the Department of Political Science at UCLA

28 September: Abdelkadr Nouibat (visiting scholar 19 September – 1 October)

The Political Economy of Reforms: The Case of Algeria

Associate Professor, University of M'sila, Algeria

11-13 October: V-Dem Modelling Week

This week will serve to situate the V-Dem modeling strategy in the larger context of latent variable modeling, and will involve both presentations regarding the V-Dem model and cutting-edge research in latent variable modeling, as well as workshops to facilitate the further use of these models

Daniel Pemstein (Assistant Professor, North Dakota State U), Alexander Tahk (Assistant Professor, UW-Madison), and Kyle Marquardt (Post-Doc, V-Dem Institute)

26 October: Michael Bernhard (visiting scholar 22-28 October)

Suicide by Competition? Authoritarian Institutional Adaptation and Regime Fragility

The Raymond and Miriam Ehrlich Chair in Political Science at the University of Florida

09 November: Steven Lloyd Wilson

Detecting Mass Protest through Social Media

V-Dem Institute Post-Doc

23 November: Gerardo Munck (visiting scholar 21-26 November)

Democratization in the Modern Age: The Evolution of Knowledge Since World War II

Professor, University of Southern California

07 December: Constanza Sanhueza

The Political Representation of Citizens of Immigrant Origin: Electoral Systems, Integration Policies, Political Parties and Immigrant Constituencies in 8 European Democracies

V-Dem Institute Post-Doc